

(Society, State & Polity in India)

Origin of State

The State means a political organization or government that controls a region (like a country).

How did the idea of "State" originate in our society?
In ancient times, people lived in small groups, as hunter and law order, protection — from state.

Now how states form 4 theory

- Evolutionary theory — state formed slowly from family → state
- Force theory → one powerful person/group force others to follow him
- Mystical theory (divine) → Society is created by God. God linking as his representative
- Contract theory → most extrinsically discredited theory
People made a deal (Contract) to form state for safety.

① Evolutionary theory - State didn't form in 1 day family → society → state
→ Natural development
Ex. Like a baby growing into an adult functioned in Atharva veda

② Force Theory - Stronger people attacked or weaker group and force them to combine → Force them to follow rule -
→ The winner become the king.
Ex. King Ashoka's early rule where he won lands through war

③ Mythical Divinity Theory -
→ People believe that king chosen by God.
→ Obeying the king = Obeying God
In Ramayana, King Dasharatha ruled based on divinity right.

④ Contract theory - Modern democratic countries are based on this idea - we agree to form state
